A. Associated Students

Presten Jimenez

AS is looking for new ways to adjust to this new online environment. We have been communicating with other schools to see what they are doing and how we can improve on what they are doing to best fit the needs of our students.

B. United Faculty

Christie Diep

Hello Academic Senators and Liaisons,
United Faculty is still negotiating with the District concerning the COVID-19 MOUs. We are moving towards agreement and will hopefully be communicating with everyone soon. The work that faculty has accomplished is amazing, and the priority of UF is to make sure that our contractual rights are protected and we have what we need to continue serving our students under the circumstances.

A neutral fact finder has been appointed by PERB and we are moving forward in the fact-finding process. We have to wait and see how PERB decides to conduct the process under the stay at home orders.

Please take a look at our UF Facebook page for information and updates. Don't forget to wear your red shirt on Wednesdays, and send us your pictures to post. (Awesome pictures Counseling Division!)

E. Curriculum Committee

Silvie Grote

Since last Senate meeting, Curriculum Committee met on 3/17 and 3/31 via Zoom. After spring break, we will be meeting weekly till the end of semester.

We had 2 faculty members attend virtually and speak during public commentary just because they could as we were meeting via Zoom; it was so nice to see.

I have been attending Faculty Support Team meetings that were initially scheduled daily and moving forward the work of this group will be addressed during weekly Deans' meetings. Your division representatives share faculty concerns and I relay that information. Most recently, the following has been an issue: Zoom bombing. The DE and IT teams have been notified.

In addition to faculty concerns, I also share curriculum developments/challenges that are arising due to COVID-19. The curriculum committee chairs' listserv has been populating with issues such as blanket DE approvals (now proposed by the State Chancellor's Office for summer and fall), Pass/No Pass grading options, planning for fall online instructions etc.

It might be prudent to give blanket DE approvals and P/NP grading options some thought before the Senate meeting, so I can get your feedback. I have included excerpts from listserv and other information at the end of this report such Articulation Officer's (Jacky Rangel) thoughts on this topic and CSU's response to P/NP.

There are still outstanding courses that need to be Pre-launched (and then Launched) so we are in compliance with Title 5 and during my agenda item, I can speak to that further.

The cultural diversity subcommittee presented revision proposal for first and second read on 3/17 and 3/31, respectively. Committee members unanimously approved to adopt revised proposal. This proposal will be presented to the Senate at our next meeting.

F. Academic Senate Treasurer's Report

Michael Brydges

G. Cypress College Foundation

Damon de la Cruz

The Foundation discussed the how the quarantine was affecting the college and foundation board as a whole. Presidents Schilling's address included a commendation on the faculty and college staff on the transition to the digital environment. Howard Kummerman noted that the Americana was a success. The scholarship deadlines have been extended and the scholarship event has been postponed to the fall, this will not affect distribution of monies to students. The Foundation is looking for different ways to aid students and reviewing several avenues to provide emergency funds to students. In response to the quarantine there has been a reallocation of funds to support mini-grants.

H. Student Equity and Achievement Committee

Alison Robinson/
Gisela Verduzco

1. Funds to allocate money to the Math Department for online sidekicks.
2. NCORE was cancelled, funds were reallocated to the student emergency fund.

I. Student Learning Outcomes Assessment

Nicole Ledesma
/Jennifer Coopman

1. Jennifer will give a status report for fall at the next meeting
2. Fall 2019 SLOs should be done at this point but can still be entered if needed.
3. The score cards are ready in eLumen, reach out to Jennifer or Nicole if there are any errors.
4. There was a reminder that CSLOs are now tied to program review

J. Program Review and Department Planning

Bryan Seiling

1. The Instructional Program Review Committee (IPRC) had its regularly scheduled meeting this past Monday, March 30th. Due to the campus closure, the meeting was held via Zoom and was recorded for those members who could attend live. Originally, the committee planned to complete the reviews of the remaining Specialized Instructional Programs scheduled for this spring, but it was decided to delay those reviews until next spring. The committee believed that the video format did not allow for an effective review process, and that both the programs being reviewed and the committee members doing the review could use one less thing to focus on during this period. Since the IPRC already has plans to review other Specialized Instructional Programs in Spring 2021, it will be easy to fold them into that schedule.
2. The committee was able to accomplish substantial work in shaping the Summary Forms used in the Program Review process and in drafting the Annual Report. The committee will meet after Spring Break to finalize the Annual report, which will then be presented to Senate, PBC, and PAC.
3. Committee Co-Chair David Halahmy did inform the committee of his desire to step away from the position. There are committee members who expressed interest, but there is also some uncertainty to everyone's schedules at the moment. The selection of his replacement will follow the rules of the IPRC and the Academic Senate with President Goralski making the appointment pending Senate approval.
4. In conclusion, thank you all for the work that you always do, but particularly for the recent Herculean effort in transitioning all of your classes to remote forms of instruction. Each of us are the frontline workers that accomplish our mission. We always have been and always will be. Times like this underscore that fact.

K. District Council on Budget and Facilities

Craig Goralski

1. Craig reminded the senate that he share the one time funding budget at a previous meeting.
2. Part of the budget that was approved discussed ADA compliance
3. The chancellor tried to reduce the Cypress allocation from $7.5 million to $4.0 million.
4. At CBF the committee was asked to disperse $26 million with no preparation. He requested more time to think about the disbursements. He will report back to the Senate regarding this at the April 2 meeting.
5. Many things are on hold because of the virus.

N. Distance Education

Kathleen McAlister

1. The DE Committee met on 3/31 and voted to approve the Distance Education Plan: 2017-2023. Kathleen will be making some edits/revisions over Spring Break and then we'll make the Plan available to the campus and provide a survey link for feedback/suggestions. Later this month, Kathleen will present a DE Plan report/summary to the Academic Senate—focusing on significant data and big projects scheduled for 2020-2023.
2. We have integrated the following tools/applications to Canvas: Cranium Café, Library Lti (access to Cypress College Library resources and librarian chat), Proctorio (remote monitoring for exams). We're working on integrating Labster; an application that would allow students to do virtual labs in the science disciplines.

3. We have increased subsidies for NetTutor; faculty may provide their students access to tutoring by dragging the “Online Tutoring” link into the navigation menu their Canvas courses.
4. ConferZoom is also integrated to Canvas, but we have an issue that is preventing some faculty from synching their ConferZoom accounts with Canvas. (Note that faculty must have a ConferZoom account—not a basic Zoom account—and their ConferZoom account must be upgraded to a ConferZoom “Pro” account in order to use the integration.) In some cases the “identity email” pushed to the ConferZoom app is not the faculty Cypress College (.edu) email address—even though the identity email in Canvas is correct. We cannot edit this field because the bad address does not exist inside of Canvas. It is being pushed on the backend. Fullerton College faculty are experiencing the same issue. District IT is working on a fix for this. Please contact Terry Gleason tgleason@cypresscollege.edu if you have this problem.
5. Students have expressed concern about the intrusive requirements that faculty are currently using to monitor exams. This was in regards to the use of Proctorio.
