Haas Earns 200th Women's Soccer Victory

► He started coaching the team in 1991 after a 23-year term as the wrestling coach.

Ray Haas, coach of the women's soccer team, recorded his 200th victory with the program. The milestone came on Friday, October 27 with the team hosting Orange Coast College.

The victory was a rare nail-biter, with all-time Cypress College leading-scorer Alie Nunez breaking a 1-1 deadlock with two minutes remaining in the game.

Haas began coaching the team in 1991 and has compiled a 201-13-18 record (prior to the Friday, November 3 game against Riverside). The program is currently working on a 75-game unbeaten streak (72-0-3), and has won two consecutive state championships.

With the win, and a forfeit by Golden West in the following game, the team secured the program's 8th consecutive Orange Empire Conference title.

The game was recorded for AT&T Broadband's "Game of the Week" and aired in Cypress and La Palma last week.

Prior to coaching the women's soccer team, Haas spent 23 years as the wrestling coach. While compiling a 293-48-3 record, his athletes recorded 16 state titles, 11 conference titles and 57 were designated as "All Americans."

Food Service Contract Goes to Board After PAC Approval

The search for companies to provide food services has come to a close on campus, and it's now up the NOCCCD Board of Trustees to take final action on the proposals. Last Thursday, the President's Advisory Cabinet approved recommendations forwarded to the shared-governance body by the Food Services Task Force.

If approved by the Board, B & N Distributing and Cafe Supreme will partner to operate the campus convenience store and food services. R. J. Bradbury is the recommended new vending machine contractor.

The Dugout will be the main hot menu venue with the contractor's access to the Culinary Arts kitchen limited to delivery of product from the back of the building to the Dugout itself, and the occasional use of the oven. The Fine Arts Division agreed to allow the contractor to use a small storage area adjacent to the Dugout so that the vendor and Culinary Arts can maintain separate storage areas.

The convenience store in the Humanities Building will retain a "grab-n-go" concept but its offerings will be augmented with fresh salads, cut fruits, and sandwiches added to the menu. No seating will be added inside the building.

The kitchen in the back area of the convenience store will be used by the contractor for baking in an oven for a limited period of time each day and as a food preparation area for campus catering. There will be no frying or grilling of food in this facility. The contractor will also maintain an office behind the store.

The coffee cart will remain outside the Humanities Building, but some improvements will be made to the site by the vendor.

The Gym II facility near Student Activities will be open with a daily Asian food offering and grill to serve students and staff on the south side of campus, including the School of Continuing Education.

In the future the contractor is looking to add strategically placed vending carts and outdoor barbecues.

Prior to giving unanimous approval to the proposals, the Food Services Task Force completed an extensive evaluation process. Their top priorities were to provide quality food for students at an affordable price and to eliminate budgetary losses in the food services operation.

It is hoped that the new services will be in place by the beginning of the spring semester.

CHARGERS

Jerry Burchfield is participating in "California Water and Waterways: Artist Intervention In Preservation." The Two-day symposium features multi-disciplinary strategies for overcoming water limitations in a semi-arid region. It is being held at UC Irvine on December 2 and 3.

Semester's Final 'Meet the Pres.' is This Thursday

The semester's "Meet the Pres." series finale is set for this Thursday, from 1:30-2:30 p.m., in the Student Center. The meeting provides an opportunity for the campus community to share ideas with Dr. Lewis. There is no agenda.

Drinks and dessert are provided.

'Fallen Angels: The Butterfly Portfolio' Set to Open

"Fallen Angels: The Butterfly Portfolio," an exhibition of color photographs by artist Roger Camp, opens in the Photography Galleries on November 6, and runs through December 9.

Camp will appear on campus from 6-9 p.m., on November 16, at a free public lecture and reception. The lecture begins at 7:30 p.m., in TE1-213.

The "Fallen Angels: The Butterfly Portfolio" exhibit includes a 28-foot long digital mural and individual color photographs. The works will be on display in the Photography Gallery located on the second floor of the TE1 Building and the third floor of the Library.

The galleries are open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., on Friday and Saturday.

Camp is a longtime resident of Huntington Beach. He has been a professor of photography at Golden West College since 1977, and fine arts department chair since 1995. Camp has received numerous awards including the Graphis/Agfa Photo 94, Best of Category Award, Lecia Medal of Excellence, Fulbright/Hays Fellowship to Brazil and a Florsheim Fellowship. This summer, Camp's work was featured by the Kodak Photo Gallery in Times Square, New York. His work has been published in eleven books and numerous magazines.

CIU Open House, Diversity Dialog Set for November

The Center for Intercultural Understanding will host an open house on Wednesday, November 15, from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. CIU is located in the Student Activities Office.

International foods and refreshments will be served. Stop by and meet steering committee members, share ideas and suggestions, and celebrate diversity.

On the day before the open house, CIU hosts "THE TEEN FILES: The Truth About Hate" – a presentation by the Orange County Human Relations Commission as part of the ongoing Viewing Diversity and Dialogue series. It will be held in H-136 from 5-7 p.m.

Up to 40,000 hate crimes are committed each year in America. Nearly 56% of hate-related murders are committed by offenders under the age of 21. Emotional and hard-hitting, "THE TEEN FILES: The Truth About Hate" explores the origins of hate through the eyes of today's teenagers as they come face to face with their own racism, ethnic bigotry, religious hatred and sexual discrimination.

Congressman Tom Campbell Speaking Here Today

Congressman Tom Campbell, who was unable to attend a debate among U.S. Senate candidates held on campus last Thursday, will appear on campus today. The event is part of a U.S. Government and Politics course taught by Professor Peter Mathews.

Campbell will provide a 20-minute lecture for the class and visiting audience, then will answer questions from the group for the remainder of the session. The session is scheduled to be held in H-136 from 9:30-11 a.m..

Participants for the debate – which was arranged by Lee Miller – were: Jose Luis "Joe" Camahort, Reform Party; Gail Katherine Lightfoot, Libertarian Party; and Brian M. Rees, Natural Law Party.

Classified Needs Assessment Forms Due on Nov. 17

A packet containing forms, a timeline and an evaluation process for identifying and requesting new classified positions has been distributed to all managers. The forms are due on November 17.

Please submit all requests through your manager following whatever shared governance process has been developed in your area.

BRIEFLY

Gail Taylor has temporarily returned to the Foundation to work on Americana and the Rose Hills matching grant (see below). Her return coincides with the departure of Gail McElroy, who resigned due to health reasons. Gail Taylor will remain with the Foundation while the campus goes through the process of hiring a new executive director.

The deadline is closing in on a matching grant from the Rose Hills Foundation, which could provide the college with up to $40,000 for the Mortuary Science refurbishment. Please contact the Foundation at 47126 to make a donation or for more information.

The Banner/EIS preliminary implementation training schedule has been released by the President's Office. If you have any questions, please talk to your managers.

Doorways to Discovery continues its workshop series with "Ups and Downs of Parenting: How Do I Make Each Day My Best?!?" It will be presented by Diedre Porter on Thursday in TE2-204.

Because of Thanksgiving, the November 20 edition of @Cypress will have an extra long shelf life. @Cypress won't appear on November 27, but returns on December 4.
