State Chancellor Mark Drummond Visits Cypress College Next Month

The CA Community College’s top executive will be on campus on Tuesday, April 24, as part of a series of site visits.

Mark Drummond, chancellor of the California Community Colleges, will be on campus on Tuesday, April 24. His visit is being made as part of an on-going tour of the state’s 109 community colleges initiated when he took over the post in January, 2004.

In addition to Chancellor Drummond, the visit will include Scott Lay, president and chief executive officer of the Community College League of California; Larry Toy, the president and CEO of the Foundation for California Community Colleges; and State Academic Senate President Ian Walton.

The group plans to arrive on campus at 10 a.m. and will take a tour of the campus. They also plan to meet with members of the campus community in an open forum. All college faculty, staff, students and governing board members are invited.

The time and location of the forum will be shared in an upcoming edition of @Cypress when the details are finalized.

While at Cypress College, Chancellor Drummond will also meet with local members of his Chancellor’s Circle of business representatives.

Also coming to campus on April 24 will be the chief executives of other area community colleges and community college districts.

‘Little Rock Nine’ Member Dr. Terrence Roberts to Speak on Campus on Monday, April 16

Perhaps you remember the famous photograph from a history course: nine Black students arrive on the steps of Central High School in 1957 Little Rock, AK, for their first day of classes. Despite the Supreme Court ruling three years earlier “ending” school segregation, the students are met by an unruly crowd and the state’s National Guard.

In that group of pioneering students, was Terrence Roberts. Now, Dr. Roberts, he will visit Cypress College on Monday, April 16, from 2-3 p.m., to present “Lessons from Little Rock.” The presentation will be held in H-131 and is open to the community without charge.

Dr. Roberts is an enlightened speaker with a positive message. His presentation takes his audience back in time and history to 1957 when these unthinkable things occurred.

Dr. Roberts’ visit is being coordinated by the Cypress College Diversity Committee. Virgil Adams, faculty member in Social Science, and Doreen Villasenor, EOP&S counselor, have provided leadership in planning the event.

High School Senior Day a Big Hit with Students

Some 1,100 high school students participated in Senior Day this week to gain information about the variety of academic and extracurricular programs offered at Cypress College. The event, which was coordinated by Paul Bottiaux, was a festive atmosphere — including an impromptu dance competition. It also featured informational workshops and booths for various programs.

BLUEPRINT

When it comes to construction, things are moving across, up and away.

ACROSS — Beginning on April 3, and running through spring break week, the campus administrative offices will move across campus, returning to the former Library/Administration Building from a nearly 2-year stay in Gym 2. This time around, the building is called the Cypress College Complex and the offices will be on the third floor. Administrative offices previously occupied the second floor, which is now utilized by EOPS, CARE, CalWORKS and Counseling as part of a group of student services available in the building. In addition to the administrative offices relocating to the third floor, conference space and an Academic Senate office are being constructed on the building’s fourth floor. Just in case anyone has forgotten, the third and fourth floor offices were previously occupied by the Library.

On a somewhat related note, the walkway between the Complex and the pond should be restored during spring break, meaning that it will no longer be necessary to walk around the pond to get from one side of Lakeshore to the other.

UP — Anyone returning from a two-week vacation will notice a stunning transformation in the center of campus. Over the course of the past 10 working days, crews have installed a majority of the steel framing for the Student Center. The outlines of the two-story main building and the single-story Bookstore, which is immediately adjacent, are clearly defined by the work completed to this point. Work on the steel skeleton of the building should be complete by the end of next week. A “topping-off” ceremony has been scheduled for April 11, from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. Additional details will be shared as that date approaches.

AWAY — We’re nearing the point where fencing on the ground level will begin disappearing for good. Crews are progressing in their work to complete the facing of the piazza in the Humanities, SEM and Fine Arts areas. Once the work is done, the fencing will be taken down.

CHARGERS

The Board of Trustees has accepted the retirement of Tony Jones, Cypress College Automotive Collision Repair Instructor, effective May 26.

The men’s golf team broke a school record on Wednesday (March 21, 2007) as three Chargers shot under par to defeat Santa Ana by 18 strokes, 353-371. The total score breaks a team record. On the whole, the squad was seven under par as a team with Freshman Mark Williams recording a 68, four under par. The Chargers improve to 6-4 in conference play and return to the Navy Golf Course next week for their final home tournament. The Chargers will host Orange Coast, Santiago Canyon, and Cuyamaca and can improve their record to no-hitter of the season against Santa Ana on March 14 and a hit batter and two errors away from a perfect game. The victory was a mea-

BRIEFLY

A number of curriculum deactivations, additions, and revisions for Cypress College, effective fall 2007, have been approved by the Board of Trustees for the North Orange County Community College District. Most of the changes were recommended to meet accreditation, certification, and industry standards as well as state mandates. Board members complimented the Cypress College faculty for the detail and thoroughness of the information on the recommended changes provided for their review. Peggy Austin chairs the campus Curriculum Committee.

Two meetings on the college’s Title V grant will be held next week. Both will take place on Thursday, March 29, in the Staff Conference Room on the first floor of the Fine Arts Building. The Steering Committee will meet for news and updates from 1-2:30 p.m. There will also be a “New Title V Grant Kickoff Meeting” from 2:30-3:30 p.m. Additional information is available in the Title V Newsletter.

Expect to see @Cypress next Friday, but not during spring break, as no edition will be published on Friday, April 6.
Here are some additional newsletters from around the campus:

Dr. Terrence Roberts, who is one of the original “Little Rock Nine” (the students who volunteered to attend Little Rock’s Central High School in 1957), will make a presentation on April 16th in the Humanities Lecture Hall, room 131, from 2-3 pm with a question and answer period from 3-3:30 p.m.

The “Little Rock Nine” is a group of African-American students who have gone down in history for attempting to fulfill their rights to a quality non-segregated education.

In 1954, the U.S. Supreme Court unanimously declared that separate facilities were inherently unequal and, as such, violated the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution. Regardless of the earlier Supreme Court decision, when these nine students arrived at Central High School in 1957, they were met by an unruly crowd and the Arkansas National Guard.

Dr. Roberts who is an enlightened speaker with a positive message will present, “Lessons from Little Rock,” which takes his audience back in time and history to 1957 when these unthinkable things occurred.

Be sure to set aside the date and time to have the opportunity to hear Dr. Roberts speak. Students, faculty, administrators, and staff are invited and encouraged to attend.

“An individual has not started living until he can rise above the narrow confines of his individualistic concerns to the broader concerns of all humanity.”

Students from Area High Schools Visit Campus for Senior Day

Students from area high schools — some 1,100 of them — were on campus this week to participate in the annual Senior Day outreach event. Participants visited booths from various campus programs, divisions, departments and clubs, attended workshops (as seen above), and had some fun while on campus. @Cypress will have a more complete photo gallery of the event in next week’s edition.
CC Complex, Administration Area Takes Shape for April 3 Move-in

The campus administrative offices will move to the third floor of the Cypress College Complex during spring break. Seen above is the administrative support area for the executive vice president's office. The doorway seen at the left is the entrance to the president's office area.

At the right is the view from the fourth floor at the main staircase and lobby area.

The fourth floor (see next page) will house the Academic Senate office and conference space.
This is the large conference room on the fourth floor of the Cypress College Complex.

The Academic Senate office and additional conference space are also located on the fourth floor.
Progress on Piazza Work

Crews are constructing the facing of the piazza along the areas where Phase I and Phase II work has otherwise been completed. When this work is done, the fencing will begin to come down!
Going Up! Student Center Steel Work Nears Completion

The first of the Student Center’s steel beams went into place on Monday, March 12, when four pieces were installed along the pond-side of the building (upper left). At the end of that week, a good portion of the main building was framed, but none of the bookstore (upper right). Less than two weeks later, the progress is breathtaking. Steel work should be completed next week and a “topping-off” ceremony has been scheduled for April 11.
