Summer Class Schedule Online; Expected on Campus After Break

Students can now begin planning their summer program as the schedule of classes has been made available. Registration starts May 9.

The schedule of classes for summer, 2007, is now available online via a prominent link off the campus website’s main page. A printed version is expected to be available in the Bookstore — and other locations on campus — after spring break.

There are three start dates for this summer: May 29, June 4 and July 9.

Math’s David Petrie = Campus Teacher of the Year; He’s also Nominated for County Honors

Math Instructor David Petrie has been selected as Cypress College’s teacher of the year and is thus a nominee for the Orange County Teacher of the Year Award. The selection was announced following Petrie’s selection by a committee organized and led by the Associated Students.

This award is sponsored by the Dr. James Hines Foundation and the Orange County Department of Education.

He was selected unanimously from an outstanding list of nominated candidates at Cypress College.

Petrie is completing his 32nd year at Cypress College. During that time he has earned praise from his students — many of whom say they were never good in math and didn’t understand the subject until they took his class.

He is the third math teacher in the past 5 years to earn the award. Cheryl Gibby was the campus and the O.C. Teacher of the Year in 2002. The following year, Karen Watson was selected as the Cypress College Teacher of the Year.
Dr. Terrence Roberts
(of the “Little Rock Nine”)
To Speak on April 16, 2007, at Cypress College

Dr. Terrence Roberts, who is one of the original “Little Rock Nine” (the students who volunteered to attend Little Rock’s Central High School in 1957), will make a presentation on April 16th in the Humanities Lecture Hall, room 131, from 2-3 pm with a question and answer period from 3-3:30 p.m.

The “Little Rock Nine” is a group of African-American students who have gone down in history for attempting to fulfill their rights to a quality non-segregated education.

In 1954, the U.S. Supreme Court unanimously declared that separate facilities were inherently unequal and, as such, violated the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution. Regardless of the earlier Supreme Court decision, when these nine students arrived at Central High School in 1957, they were met by an unruly crowd and the Arkansas National Guard.

Dr. Roberts who is an enlightened speaker with a positive message will present, “Lessons from Little Rock,” which takes his audience back in time and history to 1957 when these unthinkable things occurred.

Be sure to set aside the date and time to have the opportunity to hear Dr. Roberts speak. Students, faculty, administrators, and staff are invited and encouraged to attend.

“An individual has not started living until he can rise above the narrow confines of his individualistic concerns to the broader concerns of all humanity.”

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.
During next week's break, the campus administrative offices will return to the former Library/Administration building after a two-year temporary stay in Gym 2. The offices will be located on the third floor.

The main entrance to the third floor (shown above, looking out of the elevator) has a small lobby and a conference room immediately adjacent (the open doorway in the center of the photo). To get to the offices, visitors travel down a hallway (indicated by the yellow arrow in the photo above).

The photo at the right depicts the office of the Executive Vice President (open doorway at the right) and the office's support staff. The main counter seen in the photograph is roughly where the main circulation desk in the former Library used to be — although the view is dramatically different, since the new Library/Learning Resource Center has been completed at the end of the pond.

The following pages offer floor maps for the new areas in the CC Complex, the third and fourth floors.

Photos From Women’s Day of Expression

The Day of Expression to celebrate Women’s History Month was held in the Theater Lobby on Tuesday, March 13, from 3-5 p.m. It was open for anyone wanting to honor women. As tradition holds it, the event is used as a venue for members of the campus community — teachers, staff, administrators and students — to offer up whatever “odes” they might like — a poem, a song, a dance, a set of photographs, etc — whatever they’d like to share in homage to women.

These photos were contributed by student Diane Nuon and provided to @Cypress by Regina Rhymes, one of the event’s organizers.
On behalf of the 2007 Kindercaminata Committee, I would like to extend a sincere thank you to those who volunteered or participated in our event.

The 1200+ children had a memorable day while visiting our vendor displays and information tables. The K-9 Police Unit, Fire Truck, Magician and Ballet Folklorico were popular attractions. Participants also enjoyed lunch provided by Knott's Berry Farm.

Staff and volunteers provided an enthusiastic and supportive environment throughout the day. Also, the weather was perfect for the event!

Thank you again for your support of Kindercaminata at Cypress College.
